Re Post Office Account.

Sir,—The balance at the credit of the Post Office Account on June 30th last was $1,269,353.09, made up of outstanding Money Orders, Postal Notes and Salary Warrants.

You state in your letter of May 5th, 1904, that the Department does not attempt to prove that the outstandings amount to this balance.

It seems to me of the very greatest importance that this should be done, if not every year at least occasionally; and I would suggest the following means of accomplishing it. Instruct Postmasters when making their returns after June 30th next to divide the Money Orders, Postal Notes and Salary Warrants paid, into two lots, those issued previous to June 30th and those subsequent to that date. The former should be charged to the accounts of the previous year which could be kept open for three or four months, after which it should not be a very great task to make a statement of what were still outstanding.

I have to ask your further consideration of the subject. If desirable, I would gladly meet you and your accountant to discuss the matter.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

The Deputy Postmaster General. J. L. McDOUGALL, A.G.

Post Office Department, Ottawa, 20th February, 1906.

Sir,—Referring to your letter of the 27th April, 1904, on the subject of the balance to the credit of Post Office Account and to this department's reply of the 5th May, the receipt of your further letter of the 20th February, 1905, is now acknowledged.

The advantage of proving the balance to the credit of Post Office Account is admitted, but with the knowledge possessed by the officers of this department of the details of the work, the plan outlined by you appears to be impracticable. It may be stated at the outset that it is within the knowledge of this department that the subject of proving outstanding Money Orders against the amount held for their payment has engaged the attention of the officers of all Post Office Departments, and that, so far as is known, the difficulties in the way have not been met, and it is understood that no country is now making the attempt.

In order that the question of establishing outstanding Money Orders should be understood, it may be well to consider the paid Money Order side in its two phases of Foreign and Domestic. The mode of settling with foreign countries is arranged by convention, and, broadly speaking, may be divided into two classes; first those that are settled on a basis of paid Orders, and second those that are settled on a basis of issue established at the Various Exchange Offices. The United States, France, Newfoundland, and some other British Colonies, belong to the former; other countries having Money Order relations with Canada to the latter. If the Orders issued in Canada and paid in the United States are not returned promptly, the balance to the credit of Post Office Account increases, and in 1904 in the United States alone Orders were held back amounting to at least $500,000.00. In order to establish which of the Orders included in that amount were outstanding on the 30th of June, the United States would have to furnish supplementary returns in which one year's issues would be kept separate from the other, and this course would have to be followed with other countries where similar conditions exist. As supplementary returns have long been discontinued by all countries with which Money Orders are exchanged, and as the conventions do not provide for them, it would be useless for this department to make any attempt to obtain them.

With regard to Money Orders issued in those countries where the list of issues prepared by the Exchange Offices form the basis of settlement, the difficulties to be met in dealing with the Orders issued towards the end of each year would be very great. Take, for instance, the Orders issued in June in Great Britain and the Colonies and not certified by the Exchange Offices until July: to the paying Postmaster these would be June Orders; to the clerk engaged in checking Postmaster's Accounts they would also be June Orders; but to the clerks dealing with the lists from the Exchange Offices (on which settlements are based) they would be Orders paid in July or later. It would not be possible to keep the Accounts straight if such amounts were credited in June, as suggested, and marked off as July payments, which would undoubtedly be the case.

Domestic Orders, that is, Orders issued in Canada and paid in Canada. To establish which of such Orders were outstanding on the 30th June would require Postmasfest to expert Accountants who are not acquainted with the details of the work, but ated. The difficulties of obtaining such accounts properly prepared may not be manifest to expert Accountants who are not acquainted with the details of the work, but to the officers of this department who have a thorough knowledge of such matters, it would seem an impossible task to require Postmasters to prepare accounts which would be any departure from the regular routine in which they are, to some extent, trained. Apart from such difficulties, however, the work of which the preparation of such returns would entail on the department would require the employment of an extra staff of clerks for whom, in the limited accommodation afforded the department at present, it would be impossible to find room even if the Government decided to undertake the expense.

The difficulties surrounding the establishment of the value of the outstanding Postal Notes on any given date are so great as to make the operation almost impossible.

It may be well to state that two classes of Post Offices handle Postal Notes,—Accounting and Non-Accounting. Special Statements would have to be furnished by all Postmasters showing the numbers of Postal Notes remaining unsold on the 30th June, in addition to which the Non-Accounting Postmasters would also have to furnish statements showing the value of the notes on hand.

In the department the notes issued previous to the 30th June, would have to be separated from those issued subsequent to that date. A special staff of about twelve clerks would be required as well as a new room containing a duplicate set of sorting cases in which to sort and file the notes issued subsequent to the 30th June, so as to keep them separate from those issued up to that date.

The latter would all have to be sorted numerically and a record made of the missing notes. From this record would have to be struck the numbers of the notes which the Postmasters had on hand. The result could be compiled and the total value of the notes still in the hands of Non-Accounting Postmasters (compiled from their special statements) deducted and the residue would be the Postal Note portion of the balance referred to by you. The paid notes issued subsequent to the 30th June would then require to be sorted in with those issued up to that date so as to get back to the regular system of sortation. There would be about 1,500,000 notes to sort and re-sort—about six weeks work for twelve clerks.

When this had all been done it would still be unsatisfactory because of the fact that it would not be possible to verify the accuracy of the thousands of statements forwarded (many of them after the 30th June) by Non-Accounting Postmasters without personal investigation by the Post Office Inspectors.

It is almost needless to say that to procure statements from so many thousands of Postmasters—many of them quite untrained in accounting work—would involve an immense amount of additional labour at a time when the whole available staff of the department is already engaged in the task of closing the work of the fiscal year.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

The Auditor General. R. M. COULTER, D.P.M.G.

AUDIT OFFICE, OTTAWA, January 3, 1906.

Re Casual Revenue—Sale of Waste Paper.

SIR,—The sales of waste paper brought to account the last three years were as follows:—

	1902-03.	1903-04.	1904-05.
Hamilton	$ 9 07	$ 23 58	$ 5 10
Toronto	189 02	127 69	84 68
Montreal	105 80	26 89	.....
Quebec	12 92	14 06	6 93

In 1901-02 the sales of waste paper at Halifax amounted to $17.08. Nothing has since come to account.

Nothing seems to have been received from any of the other Post Offices.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

The Deputy Postmaster General. J. FRASER, A.G.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, OTTAWA, 17th January, 1906.

SIR,—Replying to yours of the 3rd instant, re waste paper sales at City Post Offices, I beg to say that, at many points, it is not possible to secure a market for the sale of such material; that at other points prices fluctuate to a large extent, and at still other places, although prices may remain firm, the amount of waste paper to be sold is at times greater because of the fact that accumulations of old books, &c., are included in the waste paper.

These reasons will account mainly for the differences noted in your letter. At Montreal, however, sales were made towards the close of the last fiscal year, payment for which was not received until after the 1st July last. The amount is, therefore, included in this year's accounts.

Waste paper at Halifax has now to be destroyed, there being no market for it, and this has been the case for some years past.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

The Auditor General. R. M. COULTER, D.P.M.G.

AUDIT OFFICE, OTTAWA, January 3, 1906.

Re Post Office Expenditure chargeable to Revenue.

SIR,—The expenditure for salaries and allowances to Postmasters, chargeable to Revenue in 1904-05 amounted to $1,549,864.54.

As you are aware no statements nor vouchers are furnished to this office for this expenditure.

Previous to July 1, 1903, the salaries of Postmasters were based on an allowance of 40 per cent of the legitimate revenue up to $800; over that amount and under $10,000, 25 per cent; over $10,000, 15 per cent, and since that date an increase of 10 per cent on these rates.

I have to enquire what is meant by legitimate revenue; if any excess is allowed over the above rates, and if so, I would like to have a list of same and the reasons therefor.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

The Deputy Postmaster General. J. FRASER, A.G.

AUDIT OFFICE, OTTAWA, January 3, 1906.

Re Post Office Box Rents.

SIR,—The present regulation, I understand, is that 50 per cent of the Post Office Box Rents is paid to the Postmasters.

Attention was called last year where this allowance was exceeded, and enquiring if any other postmasters had been paid in excess of the usual percentage.

No reply was received to this letter.

I have now to enquire if any postmasters were allowed more than 50 per cent of these Rents during 1904-05, and if so, those that were, and the reasons therefor.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

The Deputy Postmaster General. J. FRASER, A.G.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, OTTAWA, 17th January, 1906.

SIR,—In reply to your letter of the 3rd instant, re Post Office box rents, I beg to say that the practice of the department is to pay Postmasters occupying Government buildings 50 per cent of the Box Rents During the year ended 30th June last this practice was adhered to with the one exception of Smiths Falls, Ont., whose Postmaster receives the whole of the box rents. In this case payment of the full collections was made under authority of the Postmaster General in compensation for extra work undertaken by the Postmaster in connection with the midnight and early morning mails for that point.

I am, sir your obedient servant,

The Auditor General. R. M. COULTER, D.P.M.G.
